On the inside

Cover Story

Students of power

Pages 4-5

They are heirs to the throne of influence and ready to take on the world, but their values contradict the stereotype that goes with an apprenticeship of politics.

Crime

The enemies within

Pages 6-8

Alexander Litvinenko was a Russian spy who was licensed to kill – then he was poisoned with polonium while exiled in London. But who ordered the hit, and why?

Visual arts

True to life

Pages 12-13

If a picture’s worth a thousand words, what do portraits say about Adelaide’s cultural celebrities?

Movies

Picture the real world

Pages 16-17

Why the documentary is making a comeback.

Travel

Under a Welsh spell

Pages 22-24

Haunted castles, secret gardens and hotels fit for a queen – the south of Wales is what fairytales are made of.

Carbon fading

The world needs to drive a wedge into greenhouse emissions.

Seven ways to clean up

- Cut car emissions by either increasing the fuel economy of two billion cars from 9 litres per 100km to 4.5 litres per 100km or driving two billion cars only 8000km a year instead of 16,000km.
- Stop deforestation worldwide.
- Replace 1000 large coal-fired power plants with natural gas-fired plants.
- Install carbon-capture “clean coal” technology at 2400 coal-fired power plants with an efficiency of 30 per cent.
- Replace 700 future coal-fired plants by doubling today’s level of nuclear power.
- Increase solar power 700-fold to displace coal.
- Increase wind power 40-fold to displace coal.

This is the bare minimum required to keep the rate of carbon emissions at the current rate. If poor countries are allowed to emit more carbon, then richer countries like Australia will need to emit less.
